1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 3, 4, 10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claims 3 and 4 are indefinite in not reciting when the milk "has been" stored at 2-25C. Claims 10 and 11 are indefinite in reciting "(e)" (claim 10) and "(f)" (claim 11) since these letters of the alphabet suggest that the step to which each of these letters refers occurs after step (d) when, in fact, the step occurs before step (d). Thus, "(e)" and "(f)" should be cancelled. Corrections are required without new matter.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hatmaker (1,626,818) in view of Robinson (3,643,586), MooMilk FAQ and FDA (21 CFR 131.110 and 131.120) as set forth on pages 3-6 of the September 19, 2006 Office action.
5. Applicant's arguments filed January 13, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Although Hatmaker may prefer to use warm milk at 100-125F, as applicant recognizes, this is not essential to Hatmaker's process. In 1925-1926, the date of Hatmaker's invention, refrigeration facilities were not readily available.

However, if they were, Hatmaker would obviously have recognized the value of storing milk, before use, at a refrigeration temperature, such as claimed by applicant and suggested MooMilk FAQ, in order to avoid spoilage problems. It then would have been obvious to mix Hatmaker's milk at this storage temperature with the dry milk used therein during subsequent processing in preparing the final condensed milk product. Additionally, Hatmaker was not aware of any FDA requirements with regard to milk fat content. If he had been he obviously would have complied with the current FDA regulations in this regard and adjusted the milk fat content to be within applicant's claimed range.

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
